

PRESCOTT, OCTOBER 13, 1896.

The District Court will meet Monday next.

The Governor's message has been issued in pamphlet form.

The Pima Delegation dined with the Governor on Thursday.

See the Quartermaster's advertisement for hay and corn fodder.

The legislative rooms as fitted up this year look very well, and the members seem well satisfied with them.

Hon. W. J. Oshorn, of the Pima delegation in the Legislature, was a member of the first Legislature of Nevada.

JOHN MCCARTNEY, formerly a clerk in the store of Jacob Elias, in Prescott, died at Wickenburg on the 4th instant, of fever.

Hon. M. R. Platt, of Pima, took his seat in the Council on Monday. He was taken ill on the road, and only reached here on Saturday.

DR. PHELPS has taken possession of the hospital at Fort Whipple, Dr. Newhall having gone to San Francisco. We learn that the time of the contract of the latter has expired.

Hon. D. S. Loun, of this county, has introduced a bill in the Council to fix the capital permanently at Prescott. We shall watch its fate with interest, and see if its opponents can name a better place.

AMERICAN MINING INDEX.—This journal, published in New York, entered upon its fourth volume on the 5th of July last. It is a fine and suggestive paper and we commend it to the attention of all miners.

APPOINTMENT.—At the request of the Legislative Delegation from Yuma county, the Governor has appointed Joseph B. Tuttle, now Justice of the peace, to be Probate Judge of Yuma county, and D. H. Hinchcock, resigned.

LIEUT. W. H. FORD's time as Lieutenant of Arizona volunteers having expired on the 7th inst., the Governor has appointed him his private secretary, and will make all his communications to the Legislature, through him.

JULIAN SAUNDERS is the door keeper of the Council, everybody knows him, and if he ever finds his big shot gun to bear upon the honorable members they will have occasion to regret it. The old gentleman is as sharp as a razor, and as grumpy as a mill stone.

YESTERDAY morning the Indians visited the camp of the workmen on the Umpqua lake, some miles from Prescott, and stole ten pounds of blasting powder, blankets, a lot of provisions, and other things in the house, after which they went in a northerly direction.

SHERIFF BOURKE, who was badly injured by being thrown from a wagon while descending Red Hill, returned from the Verde on Saturday, and is as easy as could be expected. Dr. Palmer has been ill, is also here in better health.

A GOOD CHOICE.—Hon. Robert F. Platt, of Yuma county, has been made the chairman of the House committee on printing. This is a good choice inasmuch as Mr. Platt is a printer by trade and has an intimate familiarity with the business.

THE FOUR MEN killed in the Sacramento District by the Wallapais are well spoken of by those who knew them, and their loss is a severe blow to that district. Ira Woodworth was for a long time the chief partner of Hon. W. J. Oshorn, member of the first Legislature from Mohave county.

TUCSON MAIL.—Leopoldo Carillo, who has submitted the contract for carrying the mail between Tucson and Prescott, was here a few days since to make arrangements for a regular service. He has that part of the route from Pima Villages to Tucson to Jack Swilling. Hereafter the mail will be due on Wednesday and will leave on Thursday morning.

HON. COLES BARNHART, Delegate elect, came up in Tucson with the Pima Delegation, and is looking younger than he has for years past. He is the signal triumph philosophically, as he is the campaign, and the Pima people seem really pleased over his election. He will remain here to attend the courts as Attorney General and to look after other business.

NO FIGHT.—MOHAVE AND WALLAPAI.—By the route from the Colorado, which reached here yesterday afternoon, Hon. Mr. Hardy received a letter from Judge Haskell giving an account of a fight made by the Mohaves upon the Wallapais. Only four Wallapai bucks were killed and nine squaws and children taken prisoners. The Wallapais swear to stand by the whites.

WARNING.—Judge Haskell, of Hardyville, in writing to Mr. Hardy of the murder of Mr. Wood and others, says: "It seems that Judson, the man who killed them here, and knowing the murder of Killian, allowed the Wallapais to go to camp, and even to get possession of his gun and those of his companions. The four have paid their lives for this piece of impudence. The Wallapais are the same that have been in the district." Nice pets truly.

THE NEW MARSHAL.—Andrew Johnson, representative of trust and confidence in the integrity, ability and diligence of Edward Phelps, has by his advice and consent of the Senate, appointed him Marshal of the United States for Territory. Dr. Phelps took the oath, and bonds on the 6th instant, before Judge Tuttle, his illustrious predecessor, is going to Washington this winter, to have matters settled in this Territory. Hope he'll stay.

CLERKS.—It is of the first importance, for the convenience of the members and that of the Territorial printer, that the clerks of the Legislature should be prompt, capable and obliging. The present Legislature is very fortunate in having secured such. In the Council, Mr. Loun, the secretary, has had experience, and understands all the points. His assistant Mr. Co. is one of the quickest and best penmen in the Territory. In the House, Hon. James S. Gilles, chief clerk, and Hon. H. A. Bigelow, assistant, are both quick and careful writers, and both having been members and prominent officers of our previous Legislatures, are entirely familiar with the duties required of them. We congratulate the Third Legislature on their first class clerks.

The message of Governor Mitchell, of New Mexico, is highly praised by the Santa Fe Gazette.

A. O. NOYES and Rev. C. M. Blake and family, destined for Prescott, were at Wilmington September 29th.

Hon. O. D. Gass of Pah-Ute, informs us that one hundred additional families will locate on the Muddy this fall.

THE DAILY MINER has now been issued for six days, and is everywhere well received. It will be continued through the session of the Legislature.

AFTER CORN.—Some twenty Indians visited the ranch of Hon. J. S. Gilles on Tuesday night and stole a basket of corn apiece, stopping to strip the ears.

HEREAFTER, owing to the change in the mail day, the regular edition of the MINER will be issued upon the second and fourth Saturdays of each month.

MAJOR STICKNEY was voted for at Pima Villages and Chasewater as a candidate for the Council, but it was not known elsewhere in the country that he was in the field.

THE Coulter Quartz Mill on Lynx Creek is fast approaching completion. It promises to be one of the best mills in the Territory, and its owners are as full of energy as an egg is of meat.

ORGANIZATION.—The House organized Thursday October 4th, as will be seen by reference to the Journal. The Senate organized on Monday, October 8th, and at 2 o'clock p. m. the House met in joint convention to receive the Governor's message.

LEGISLATIVE BALL.—The citizens of Prescott gave the members of the Legislature an opportunity to trip the light fantastic toon Friday evening at Justice Baird's new building. A general invitation was extended to the public—the ladies especially.

JUDGE ALLYN.—We learn that the report that Judge Allyn had gone to Idaho is incorrect, and that he has come home to Connecticut. As his term of office expires in March next, we presume we shall not see his lily white hands in Arizona any more.

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.—Monday at 2:12 o'clock p. m. the Legislature met in joint convention in the Hall of Representatives, the President of the Council in the chair. The Governor was announced and delivered his message of which the House, after the dissolution of the convention, ordered 500 copies each. Our readers will find the message in full in the MINER of to-day.

PAT BYRNS of Walnut Grove, who left here about ten days since for that place, was found dead in the woods near town on Wednesday. He was sick when he left here and his body indicated that he had been dead for some days. Pat was an industrious and well meaning man, but so addicted to drink that his death is no cause of surprise. The following is the verdict of the jury:

We the undersigned, having been duly sworn by G. W. Barnard, County Coroner, on the 10th day of October, A. D. 1896, to hold an inquest on the body of a person found dead about two miles south-west from the town of Prescott, do find that deceased was known by the name of Pat Byrns, and that the cause of his death is unknown to the jury.

HEAVY FREIGHT.—It has been alleged that it was impossible to transport heavy freight across the roads of this Territory, but the arrival on Thursday of four ox teams from Hardyville loaded with 9,000 pounds each of government stores proves the gross inaccuracy of the statement. During the summer about 800 days' work has been done on the Hardyville road, which is now not only one of the shortest but one of the best from the Colorado. Capitalists abroad may be assured that the heaviest machinery can be readily taken over the road. Freighters are now willing to contract for loads of 15,000 pounds each.

Exception having been taken to the above, which appeared in the Daily of Thursday, referring to the ease with which freight may be carried over the Hardyville or Mohave road, we take this occasion to say that the facts therein given were communicated to us by a prominent citizen of Mohave county, and that we believe them to be entirely correct. At the same time, the columns of the MINER are open, as they always have been, to any representations that the advocates of the La Paz road may wish to make. We have no prejudice for one road over another, and have never refused to print any commendation of either or both. Any attempt to make it appear that we have at any time praised the Mohave road over that by La Paz is unfair. The best interests of central Arizona, and especially of Prescott, demand that all roads from the Colorado should be warmly supported, and we shall not be blind enough to favor one at the expense of another.

HON. ALEX. McKEE, member of the Council from Yuma, is to be congratulated on his defeat of all the combinations against him. Although his opponent, Charles G. Johnson, had nothing whatever to commend him for the office of Councilman, it was supposed that with his backers he would be sure to win. McKEE's majority of three is not large, but a "miss is as good as a mile," and the Council is fortunate in having a Representative from Yuma who has experience, and knows how to control his tongue.

GEORGE J. CLARKE, the Post Master at Los Angeles, California, would call the attention of the people of Arizona to the fact that money can be remitted to any part of the U. S. through his office, it being a money order office. Drafts can be given to the amount of fifty dollars each. Charges on money orders of over twenty dollars up to fifty, twenty-five cents, under twenty ten cents. The amount sent directly to the Postmaster with the fee as above, will meet with immediate attention.

NEW STAGE LINES.—Special attention is called to the new stage line of Messrs. Banning & Co., from Wilmington to Fort Yuma and to that of Tomlinson & Co., from San Diego to Fort Yuma. By these lines passengers are taken through in a little less than two days.

THE MOHAVE FIGHT.

The particulars of the fight between the Mohaves and Wallapais, to which we have already referred, are thus given in Judge Haskell's letter to Honorable William H. Hardy:

"After the Wallapais had killed the boys in the Sacramento district we all concluded not to have any Mohaves about here to run and tell tales to Wallapais stopping down in the valley, and drove them away. I think it has turned out for the best, for the Mohaves made a great talk about it, and were afraid the whites suspected them and intended to fight them. They expressed their determination to be friendly to the whites, and with-out asking help from them, Sackeloot and Asakot, with their warriors, went after the Wallapais, and killed 26 bucks, and took 19 women and children prisoners. Not a single buck of the Wallapais left the valley alive. We are now satisfied that the Mohaves are all right.

A party of 19 whites and 50 Mohaves have gone after more Wallapais. They started out well armed and equipped. Captain Porter furnished the Indians with rations and animals to pack them, but said he could do no more."

From another source we learn that several whites witnessed the slaughter of the Wallapais, and that they speak in high terms of the way in which things were managed by the Mohaves.

For various reasons the attitude of the latter is highly gratifying to the settlers about Hardyville and Mohave. If the Mohaves remain true, as they promise to, they will be a defence not only against the Wallapais but also the Pah Utes.

"810 TRANSIT GLOMA MUNDE"

THE EDITOR OF THE MINER, I have read in ancient story, and in modern traditions, that through dark and stormy ages, through the countless generations of the restless genus homo, have passed down to us, as a proverb, that in ancient times 'twas written that who'er the gods desired to destroy they made him mad first. And 'twas so with Master Poston, the great politician, once Delegate to Congress. This same Poston, when he ran first, told the people—told them plainly, that if they'd elect him that time he would never come before them to solicit that high office. And the people did elect him, and he went on with flying colors, and he tasted of the glory, the renown and the high honor of a seat among the statesmen in the councils of the Nation. What he did and what he said there, is in that great speech he sent us, where he dwelt in rapturous fancy on "the soft voiced dusky maidens," in the valleys of Arizona. But regardless of his promise "never again to seek that office," he returns with visage brazen, and with bravado and bluster, thinks to force his reelection. But the gods so mad had made him that he could not hold his temper, and with vile vituperation he disgusted all good people. He the people called together, from their stores and their workshops, from the hills and from the valleys, from the mines and from the ranches; and he addressed them, "oh my people I have come again to see you—come a long and toilsome journey, from the banks of the Potomac to the heart of Arizona. I want to go again to Congress. I have measures fraught with wisdom—measures fraught with great importance, which if you again will send me, I am sure I can get through. But if you fail to elect me I'll shake the dust of Arizona from off my travel beaten sandals, and leave your shores and you forever." The people heard this fearful threatening—heard it from the mouth of Poston—Paston the great politician, the great rampant infidel statesman. The people heard but did not tremble, and from out their stores and work shops—from the mountains and the valleys—from the mines and from the ranches they assembled in their precincts to assert a freeman's privilege. And as the gods had so decreed it, the verdict of the sovereign people so rebuked this infidel statesman that he was completely played out. And they sent him up Salt River, to that famed Utopian region, the home of used up politicians, where, along with the verdict of Adams, he can brood upon the verdict of Farewell, farewell to him Master Poston; go to some far off region, where the lack of moral sense is no bar to your ambition. Go, and learn this useful lesson—never seek your own promotion by false charges against your betters.

INDIANS ON THE VERDE.—One of the settlers on the Verde writes under date of October 2:

"We have been watching our fields for several nights, in hopes of catching the Indians that were carrying off our corn. On the 30th ult. Lieutenant Gallegos and a soldier of his company volunteered to go with Mr. Long and Mr. Celderman, to watch, but when they got to the field they found the red devils already there. So they crawled upon them where they were pulling corn, and Celderman discharged his shot gun, loaded with wire cartridges, containing nine buckshot, which lodged fair in the breast of a squaw, who was carrying about a bushel of corn, instantly killing her. The Lieutenant's gun missed fire. The others fired, but without success. The Indians dropped baskets, sacks and corn, and ran, with the boys firing and yelling on their heels, and I expect they are running yet."

GOVERNMENT BONDED WAREHOUSE.—From information received from a gentleman connected with the United States Internal Revenue Department, second district, California, we learn that a Government bonded warehouse is to be established in the city of Los Angeles, of sufficient capacity to afford tax-exempt storage to bond their spirits. Taxes to be paid on the same when removed for consumption or sale.

LIST OF SOUTHERN GOVERNORS.—Alabama, Robert M. Patton; Arkansas, Isaac Murphy; Florida, David S. Walker; Georgia, Charles J. Jenkins; Maryland, Thomas Swann; Kentucky, Thomas E. Bramlette; Louisiana, Jas. M. Wells; North Carolina, Jonathan Worth; Virginia, Francis H. Pierpont; West Virginia, Arthur I. Boreman; South Carolina, Jas. L. Orr; Texas, A. J. Hamilton, provisional; Tennessee, William G. Brownlow; Mississippi, Benjamin G. Humphreys; Missouri, Thomas C. Fletcher.

A DOWN EAST editor, in describing a country dance, says: "The gorgeous strings of glass beads, glistened on the beaming bosoms of the village belles like polished rubies resting on the delicate surface of warm apple dumplings."

THIRD LEGISLATURE OF ARIZONA.

The following is a complete list of the members elected. All are in attendance excepting Mr. Jenkins of the Council, and Messrs. Cutler, Thomas, Chambers and Hut-ton of the House:

NAMES OF MEMBERS.

Council.—DANIEL S. LOUNT, JOHN W. SIMMONS, LOUIS A. STEVENS.—Yavapai Co. W. H. HARDY.—Mohave County. O. D. GASS.—Pah-Ute County. ALEXANDER McKEE.—Yuma Co. MARK ALDRICH, MORTIMER R. PLATT, HENRY JENSENS.—Pima County. JOHN R. SLACK, DANIEL ELLIS, HANNIBAL SYBERT, WILLIAM S. LITTLE, U. C. BARNETT.—Yavapai County. A. E. DAVIS.—Mohave County. R. J. CUTLER.—Pah-Ute County. W. H. THOMAS, M. D. DOBBINS, ROBERT F. PLATT.—Yuma County. GRANVILLE H. OURY, HENRY MAX WARD, WILLIAM J. OSBORN, JAMES DOUGLASS, OSCAR BUCKALEW, S. W. CHAMBERS, M. McKenna, T. D. HUTTON.—Pima County.

TROOPS IN NEW MEXICO.—From General Carleton's special orders 24 and 25, we learn of the following disposition of troops in New Mexico:

First Cavalry.—Brevet Major General George Sykes, commanding United States Infantry, with staff, band, and companies A D G and H of his regiment; Brevet Lieutenant Colonel J. V. Dubois, 3d United States cavalry, with companies E and I. First Cavalry, with staff and company B of his regiment. Fort Union. Brevet Colonel Elisha E. Marshall, 5th infantry, with companies I and F; Brevet Colonel Christopher McNally, 3d cavalry, with company B. Fort Muro. Brevet Colonel William H. Jones, 3d cavalry, with company H. First Lieutenant Francis Wilson, 3d cavalry, with company H.

ARIZONA.—Now that there is a regular mail to Pahrump and St. George, we have through connections with Arizona, and we have received a letter from His Excellency Governor McConkie, in which he says that the Federal furnishes Eastern and California news ahead of all other papers. We have already received a list of daily subscribers from Prescott, and the citizens of Arizona can now rely upon receiving the MINER promptly and regularly.—Salt Lake Herald, Aug. 30.

The Felette is a first rate paper, and it arrives here in the same time that the San Francisco papers do, with the advantage that being published at a point on the line of the overland telegraph, so much further east it often furnishes the latest telegraphic news from the Atlantic States, the wires being down between Salt Lake and San Francisco more than east from Salt Lake.

"I've got a new machine," said a Yankee pedlar, "for picking bones out of fishes. Now I tell you, it's a little bit the darndest thing you ever did see. All you have to do is to set it on a table and turn a crank, and the fish flies right down your throat, and the bones rise out the grate. Well, there was a country greenhorn got hold of it the other day, and he turned the crank the wrong way; and I tell you, the way the bones flew down his throat was awful. Why, it stuck that fellow so full of bones that he couldn't get his shirt off for a whole week!"

NAAJOS.—The New Mexico Press of Aug. 28, has the following:

On the 21st instant, the Navajo chief, son of El Ciego, and his people, twenty eight in number, went into Fort Wingate and gave themselves up. All the males of the party were well mounted. The chief said that that day he expected another party would come in and surrender. All from the Sierra de la Escudilla. These facts further justify the good opinion the Press has heretofore expressed as to Captain Butler and his officers and men at Fort Wingate.

SAN FRANCISCO AS A MANUFACTURING CITY. It appears from an official statement, compiled from the census of 1890, that the city of San Francisco at that time, although ranking as the fifth city in point of population, stood as high as the sixth in respect to the value of her manufacturing investments and products—a most remarkable showing for a city at that time but eleven years old.

THE recent discoveries of precious metals in Virginia, Maryland, New York, Vermont and New Hampshire, would seem to indicate that the Atlantic slope is a good field for gold and silver mining. Northern Georgia and Alabama, North Carolina and Virginia, have had their gold mines worked at intervals for years.

ROGERS, the poet banker, once said: "If I were compelled to make a choice, I would not hesitate to prefer despotism to anarchy." "Then you would do," replied Horne Tooke, "just as our ancestors did in the days of the Reformation; they rejected purgatory and kept hell."

A LATE number of the Detroit (Michigan) Free Press has the following:

ARIZONA.—We have before us the ARIZONA MINER, published at Prescott, Arizona. It is a paper which in appearance would do credit to any place in the world.

In the cafes and other houses of entertainment in Paris there are 27,711 public billiard tables, some single houses having as many as thirty tables. The estimated annual receipts from these, taken roughly, is 4,040,000.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—Territorial officers, lawyers, and others, having in their possession any books belonging to the TERRITORIAL LIBRARY, Will please return them to the Secretary's office within thirty days, as it is desired to newly catalogue and arrange the library.
